Brown takes plea deal in Johnson, Lawrence counties

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR
Six months after entering an Alford Plea in Harrison Circuit Court and accepting a plea deal from the Commonwealth, Brenda Kay Brown agreed to the same deal in Johnson and Lawrence counties on Friday.
According to Tony Skeans, assistant Commonwealth's Attorney in the 24th Circuit, they wanted the charges in Harrison County adjudicated first. That was done in October 2013.
Her formal sentencing in the 24th Circuit will be June 6.
Brown was charged in

Harrison County with financial exploitation of an adult (more than $300), first degree perjury and second degree criminal possession of a forged instrument.
Lawrence County charges came from a November 2012 indictment for receiving stolen property over $10,000, complicity and second degree criminal possession of a forged instrument.
In December 2012, she was indicted in Johnson County on two counts of second degree criminal possession of a forged instrument.

She was sentenced to six years in prison with a five-year diversion.
In essence, the diversion would wipe Brown's criminal slate clean after five years as long as she complies with the Commonwealth's conditions.
Brown came under investigation after allegations that she was attempting to sell her husband Jim Brown's Grand Haven Nursing Home.
Kentucky State Police uncovered real estate deeds that she had tried to have changed into her name and certificates of deposit that were altered to include her name with ownership.

She and Jim were married in February 2008. The following December, Jim suffered a debilitating stroke that left him unable to care for his businesses. That is when Kay allegedly began changing names and accounts that belonged to her husband.
In each of her cases she entered an Alford Plea, which means that Kay Brown maintains her innocence but acknowledges that with the evidence and testimony, she would likely be found guilty.

County road supervisor injured in fall through bridge

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER
Medical tests showed that Harrison County Road Department Supervisor James McCarty suffered damage to the medial collateral ligament (MCL) in his knee following an incident in which his leg went through a hole in the Snake Lick bridge Friday afternoon.
McCarty deferred comment about his injury to Harrison County Judge-Executive Alex Barnett, but did confirm that, fortunately, he avoided breaking his leg or knee cap. But, as of Monday morning, he said that his leg was still swollen and that he'll be walking on crutches for awhile.
According to Barnett, See BRIDGE, page 3

Tapp-ed into Girl Scouts

37 years in Scouts came leader, Chamber of Commerce Volunteer of the Year award

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR
This was the year that all Chamber of Commerce awards recipients were notified ahead of time that they would be receiving honors.
Well, everyone except the Volunteer of the Year. She thought she was going to the annual banquet to volunteer.
Jenny Tapp donned her black slacks and white shirt to serve food to banquet guests. Even her youngest daughter, Halee, thought they were serving for a Chamber donation to the Girl Scouts.
"There was a whole lot of conniving going on," said Tapp, a 25-year leader for Harrison County's Girl Scouts.
Tapp has spent 37 years in Girl Scouts. She was 5 years old when she went to her first Scout meeting. She was hooked.
She continued as a Scout through high school and then became a leader at 17 years old, 10 years before her first child was born.
"I wasn't supposed to, but I graduated and just slid right in," she said.
Since then, she has had at least one troop, and as many as four, each of her 25 years.
"No one would take them," she said of some of the troops without leaders. "I couldn't turn little girls down."
Tapp loved Scouting so much that she passed on her passion to her two daughters, Aleesha, 20, and Halee, 12, as well as to the hundreds of other girls who have trooped through her life.

Tapp and Aleesha are the first Harrison County mother/daughter duo to earn Girl Scouting's highest honor -- the Gold Award. Halee is expected to earn hers in two years.
Scouting has changed a little over the years, she said. Where there used to be stay-at-home moms who would assume the leader roles, those moms are now working.

A few years ago, the Harrison County Girls Scouts had to do away with their Day Camp that ran several days and allowed the girls to earn some camping, first aid, hiking and cooking badges.
Now they go on weekend trips, like one last week to a castle in Ohio.
Equipped with sleeping bags and cooking utensils, the girls spent the weekend seeing the sights.
They also spent the night on the hard ground.
"The whole sleeping on the ground is catching up with me," Tapp laughed, noting that she slept on an air mattress.
Girls are also staying with Scouts longer, which makes it a challenge for leaders to come up with new trips.
Last year 35 girls and chaperones went to Savannah, Ga., where some saw the ocean for the very first time.
"I just want them to experience some of these things," Tapp said.
In 2011, three girls and three leaders went to Europe.
Fundraising is underway now for a return trip to Europe in two years with 10 girls.
"It takes a whole lot of cookies to get to Europe," she said.

Grand jury issues eight indictments in Tuesday session

By BECKY BARNES, Editor
The Harrison County grand jury issued eight indictments on Tuesday, one of which was moved to district court. Daniel Cline, 36, was named in two indictments for separate incidents. He faces an eight-count indictment for second degree criminal possession of a forged instrument. According to the grand jury allegations, Cline wrote checks on accounts belonging to William and Bonnie Sue Cline, Janice Moore and Jessika Wade and Churches of Harrison County between Dec. 7, 2013, and Feb. 10, 2014. His bond on this case is $7,500. He is also charged with passing a cold check to Chase Jewelers on Dec. 29, 2013. The indictment states that Cline passed a check knowing that his account at Kentucky Bank had been closed. Bond in this case was set at $5,000. Corey Brandenburg, 24, Anthony Fannin, 31, and Jesse Deskins, 23, were named as co-defendants on charges of first degree trafficking in a controlled substance (heroin) with possession of a firearm at the time and possession of drug paraphernalia, also with possession of firearm. The incident is alleged to have occurred on Feb. 25. Their bonds are $10,000 each.

Timothy Platt, 39, was named in an indictment alleging first degree possession of a controlled substance (heroin) first offense and possession of drug paraphernalia. His bond is $2,500. Stephanie Bruin, 34, is charged with three counts of second degree forgery and fraudulent use of a credit/debit card, less than $500. The grand jury alleges that on Dec. 10, Bruin signed a credit card receipt at Leono's with intent to defraud. On Dec. 20, she allegedly signed a credit card receipt at Papa John's, and on Dec. 24, she did the same at Angelo's. Between Nov. 1, 2013, and Jan. 22, 2014, Bruin allegedly used a credit card owned by Katherine Price without her consent. Her bond is $2,500.

McCarty and Marty Hon, a contractor with E&H Bridge and Grating of Bedford, Ind., were conducting routine inspections of aging Harrison County bridges that day. The bridge on Snake Lick, which lays across a deep culvert, is among a priority list of bridges that the county wants to repair or replace through state funding. The hole, located at the edge of the bridge, was apparently covered with grass and dirt from recent rains, Barnett said. Running water had worn away the surface from underneath. McCarty's leg went through the gap and, according to reports from Hon and the injured party, McCarty's weight was on his leg while he dangled for several minutes over the edge of the bridge. Hon's attempts to lift McCarty out of the hole were unsuccessful. The situation was complicated further by being in a rural area where there was no reliable cell phone signal. With no options left,

Hon went waist deep into the water under the bridge and tried to ease the pressure on McCarty's leg by providing support from beneath his body. He then called for help. Members of the Kilgore family, who live nearby, responded by calling for emergency assistance and sending family members down to help. Working together with some rope, they were successful in getting McCarty out of the hole. In the meantime, Deputy Sheriff Tuan Kreer was among the first emergency responders on the scene. He was followed closely by members of the Harrison County Fire Department. Unfortunately, due to miscommunication in the reporting of the incident, the firefighters and deputy thought they were responding to a wrecked vehicle in a culvert on Snake Lick. Kreer heard that the car was filling with water and a man was trapped inside. Emergency medical crews had not been dispatched. Because of the isolated nature of the area, it was difficult to radio in a correction to the report, resulting in a further delay to the arrival of ambulance and emergency medical personnel. According to deputy Kreer, McCarty was in considerable pain and had no physical control over his leg. At the time, it was reasonable to believe that the leg was broken, Kreer said. Knowing how long it would take for the ambulance to arrive, McCarty gave permission for the men to lift him into Kreer's cruiser. Kreer then met the ambulance on US 27. EMTs transferred McCarty to the ambulance and transported him to Harrison Memorial Hospital. County road workers patched the hole over the weekend, but events have shown that the bridge is in need of major repair work, if not replacement, Barnett said. In the meantime, the prognosis on McCarty's recovery is better than was initially expected, but he'll be laid up for awhile, Barnett said.

The Cynthiana Democrat's Home and Garden Show generated nearly a ton of non-perishable food items and $639.50 all of which were donated to the Harrison County Food Pantry. Making the presentation were: from left, George Jacobs, Cynthiana Democrat publisher; Colin Duffie, advertising sales representative; Marilyn Wash, Food Pantry coordinator; and Daniel Fuson, advertising sales representative.

Tapp

The goal is to have at least one big camping trip each year. They also have monthly service projects and a county-wide event. The most recent of them was a spring father-daughter picnic at Flat Run Veterans' Park. Tapp has worked at K.C. Provisions for the last 14 years. Prior to that she was at Payless Grocery and Ponderosa.

She is a member of Cynthiana Baptist Church and serves as coordinator for the 4-H Spring Style Review. She is a native of Harrison County, having grown up in the Claysville-Sunrise area. She is the daughter of David and Shirley King. Tapp said she decided in fourth grade that she wanted to be a Girl Scout troop leader. The late Judy Fritz was her leader and she passed on her dedication to Scouting to Tapp.

City approves officer transfer to dispatch

By BECKY BARNES, Editor
Former Cynthiana Police Officer Dottie Batte, who presented her letter of resignation at the April 22 city commission meeting, has now withdrawn that request. During a special meeting on May 5, Commissioner Gary Brunker said Batte would prefer to transfer to the telecommunications center, where she worked prior to becoming a certified police officer. Brunker asked that her letter of resignation be rescinded and made a new recommendation for her transfer. Commissioners voted unanimously for Batte's transfer and she began her full-time duties Monday night. Batte's salary will be adjusted to the position.

The commission also approved the purchase of two police sport utility vehicles.

Mothers, teachers and a southern Kentucky legacy

Every day of every week of every month is proclaimed as something special. So far this month we've already celebrated National Prayer Day and Loyalty Day on May 1st. Wednesday was National Roast Leg of Lamb Day. No kidding. Friday, May 9, will be set aside to honor military spouses and of course Sunday is Mother's Day. It's been eight years since my mother died and I miss her every day.

Betty Sosby, my mother, taught third grade at Florence Elementary in Boone County for as many years as I remember of her teaching career.

I might add here that it is also National Teacher Appreciation Week.

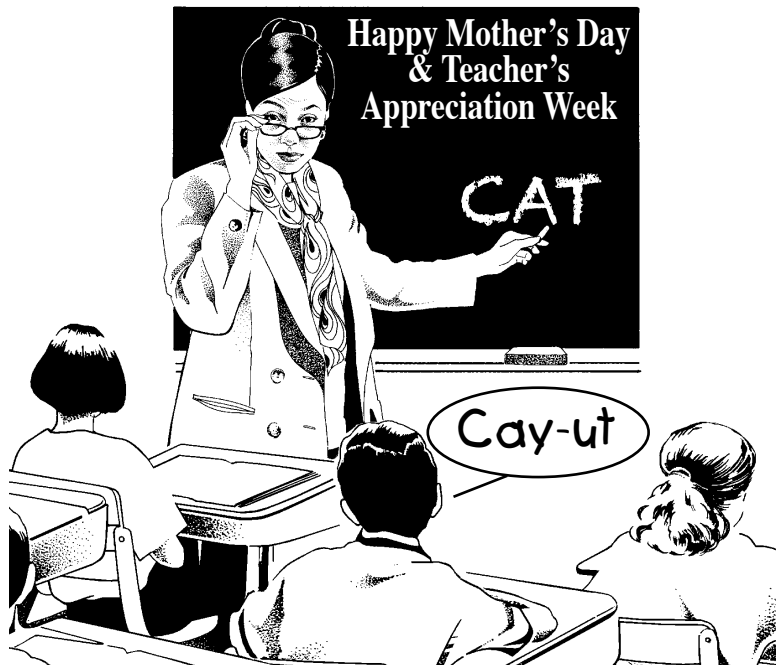

Many teachers will move from grade to grade until they find their niche. Mom loved her third grade students.

By this time, reading was more than just words for spelling tests. Students read with understanding and it opened up a whole new world to them.

My mother grew up in a small town in southern Kentucky. Marshes Siding in McCreary County is about as far south as one can go and still claim Kentucky residency.

She carried her southern Kentucky legacy with her until she died. As soon as she opened her mouth and started to speak there was no denying her southern heritage.

To say there were few one syllable

Becky Barnes
Editor

words in her vocabulary would be fairly accurate.

However, she believed she had shed most of her accent by working for nearly 30 years in northern Kentucky. Maybe she had, but it all came back to her in her last two years before she retired.

Working in Florence, Ky., put her school in close proximity to the Greater Cincinnati Airport, which is located in Boone County and owned by Kenton County.

When one of the airlines announced that it was transferring some of its pilots, crews and their families from Puerto Rico to Florence, teachers were told that very little English was spoken.

My mother took Spanish classes ahead of their arrival to ensure that she would be able to teach the children who entered her class.

I'll never forget the day she came home with the realization that her McCreary County twang was alive and thriving. In fact it was being passed on to a few third graders who had never attended school in the United States.

She laughed as she told the story of showing pictures to the children, saying the word in Spanish and then repeating it in English.

Here she was, alone with her students, a flash card picture of a cat, and a small cherub-faced child of Hispanic descent looking up at her saying "cay-ut."

She maintained her control until her lunch break that she shared with fellow teachers from Barbourville and Whitesburg, pronounced Bar•burr•ve-al and Wh•EYE•tz•bo-urg.

My mother was a great teacher, in the classroom and at home.

Happy Mother's Day and Teacher Appreciation Week to all the mothers and teachers.

Also, on May 14, we can celebrate with National Dance Like a Chicken Day.

Thank you to the Fillies for Cancer Awareness game

To the editor:

I want to say "Thank you" to the Harrison County Fillies Softball team, Coach Christine Garnett, her staff and the awesome young ladies who play with so much heart. They recently played their game for Cancer Awareness, contributing to Hospice. I had the honor of being a part of this, sharing a special memory with my granddaughter Courtney Newsom, #25.

The whole team presented me with a ball with all their names on it, all of those who participated hold a special place in my heart. Thanks for your support!

If you get a chance, go watch the Fillies play. They support our community and it's always exciting. Thank you also to the Pendleton County team who shared their time for the cause.

If we all join together, maybe one day we will find "The Cure!" Thank you!
Go Fillies!

Reader endorses Steve Moses for Judge-Executive

To the editor:

I am writing in support of Stephen Moses for Judge Executive.

Being a fairly new resident of Harrison County gives me a different perspective than someone who's lived here for many years. This is such a beautiful area with many assets and wonderful people living here. This county is blessed compared to many in the country today. But I do believe it needs someone in the leadership position that is looking to the future, not resting on past achievements.

I made a point to meet and speak to all 3 candidates for this position. I had not met any of them previously, and have no bias or pre-judged opinions on anyone. Mr. Moses impressed me with his enthusiasm, his affection and concern for his county, and solid practical plans for improving the county in the future. Steve will definitely get my vote on May 20th, and I'm looking forward to the implementation of his goals moving forward.

Harsh winter leads to new needs at Food Pantry

To the editor:

I must apologize for being lax in this year for not keeping our community abreast of the status of the Food Pantry. The old saying "no news is good news" is true in this case.

First, I want to thank each of you for making our 2013 Christmas Boxes a big success. We were able to make up 424 boxes. I have said it before and I say it again, this community amazes me.

Second, the cold, bad winter really brought out a lot of new people, because after paying high utility bills, and the children out of school, no money was left for food.

When we think the giving will stop, you all come through again and I thank you for that.

A big thank you goes out to The Cynthiana Democrat for hosting the Home and Garden Show and for the great attendance and you again, the community, come through with a great abundance of food and money.

The Food Pantry is in good shape now but I plead with you do not give up your giving. In Deuteronomy, it tells us the poor will be with us always. Due to high utility bills, sickness and things beyond their control, there will be many now coming for food.

We are trying to buy some extra things, such as frozen dinners, pot pies, etc. to put in their boxes. We have had 30 lbs. of fresh ground sausage donated and this is always an added benefit. It is such a good feeling when you hear a person, young and old, tell you how thankful they are that we are their. They do not know what they would do without us. I tell them to thank you, the community, because it is you that keeps us open.

Another thing, we are trying to expand our inventory to cleaning supplies and personal hygiene products. These are items that cannot be purchased with food stamps and are needed badly. Again a great big thank you for your support and keep it up. God bless you.

Reader endorses incumbents Barnett, Hampton, Furnish and Harney

To the editor:

If it's not broken, don't fix it. This saying applies to several of the local Democratic primary races this year.

Alex Barnett has done an excellent job as our County Judge-Executive. He has run county government efficiently and effectively and will continue to do so when re-elected. His efficiency in handling county finances has made it possible to have no increase in the county property tax rate for several years. His effectiveness as a leader enables him to work well with county and city officials to achieve good things for our community; an example is the opening of the Flat Run Veterans Park. Another major project, which is now underway, is the renovation of the court house. When completed, several county offices will be more conveniently located for our citizens.

Alex Barnett has provided strong and effective leadership of county government and must be re-elected as our County Judge-Executive.

In the sheriff's race, Bruce Hampton should be re-elected. His experience, expertise, and professionalism make Sheriff Hampton an outstanding law enforcement officer who has dedicated his life to public safety. Bruce Hampton and his team will always keep us safe.

In the race for County Clerk and Property Valuation Administrator, Linda Furnish and Carla Harney, respectively, should be re-elected. These ladies are highly qualified and have many years of experience. They and their staff provide excellent services to our community in a professional and friendly manner.

In conclusion, Alex Barnett, Bruce Hampton, Linda Furnish and Carla Harney are trusted and dedicated public servants who have earned our vote for re-election.

HMH earns ‘A’ in patient safety

Harrison Memorial Hospital was honored with an “A” Hospital Safety Score by The Leapfrog Group, an independent national non-profit run by employers and other large purchasers of health benefits. The program is designed to rate how well hospitals protect patients from accidents, errors, injuries and infections. The Hospital Safety Score is compiled under the guidance of the nation’s leading experts on patient safety and is administered by The Leapfrog Group, an independent industry watchdog.

“HMH is honored to be awarded this score for the second time in the last year. Great care begins with safe care, and safe care can only be achieved when the whole organization is focused and committed to it every day with every patient encounter. This commitment begins with the Board of Directors,” says Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer. “Over the past several years the resources to invest in patient safety technology has been provided by the board. Computerized physician order entry, bar scanning for medications and decision support tools for the clinical staff are just a few of the tools made available to enhance efforts to be the best we can be at HMH.” added Currans. “However, tools are only as good as your staff, and the staff members at HMH, including physicians, nurses, technologists and therapists, have all embraced the belief that we can become error free one day.” To see how Harrison Memorial Hospital’s score compares locally and nationally, visit the Hospital Safety Score website at www.hospital-safetyscore.org.

Farmers’ Market opens with fresh, spring vegetables, plants

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

Fresh flower arrangements for Mother’s Day will be at the top of the list of items for sale at the Cynthiana-Harrison County Farmer’s Market this Saturday morning from 9 a.m. until around noon. The Cynthiana-Harrison County Farmer’s Market celebrated its 2014 grand opening aton Saturday morning, May 1, at their shelter house location in Flat Run Veterans Park on Oddville Road. Throughout May, the Farmer’s Market will be open Saturdays from 9 a.m. until noonish. “If people want to shop around noon, we’ll stay around to accommodate them,” said Farmer’s Market board member Holly Laytart. Once the growing season gets into swing in June, the market will expand to its regular hours of Tuesday, Friday, and Saturday mornings. Early in the season, the produce on sale includes fresh asparagus, kale, lettuce and onions. Fans of farm fresh eggs will find a good supply on Saturday morning. Get there early for them. There will be a lot of bedding plants for local gardeners, too, Laytart said. Later on in the year, the market will be selling fresh grown strawberries, broccoli, and many, many other seasonal items.

Southside students’ projects will be displayed at the Spring Art Show at the LVC Art Gallery

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

Painted life masks created by fourth and fifth graders in Beth Thompson’s art classes will be shown alongside the works of professional regional artists at the Licking Valley Art Gallery’s Spring Art show on Thursday, May 22.

It has been a bit of a rush to get the student’s masks ready, but Thompson said the display will be impressive.

The annual spring art show will dedicate one room to display the masks that the students have finished, Thompson said.

According to Lenora Kinney, career and job training advisor with the Maysville Community and Technical College, Licking Valley Campus and coordinator of the Licking Valley Campus’

Art Gallery in the Harrison Square Shopping Center, said that over two dozen artists in the region will have their works featured in the spring art show. Many of them are returning from the annual fall show, but Kinney noted that there will also be some artists displaying their crafts and art for the first time. Among the participants will be such noted local artists as Herby Moore, his son and former Disney animator Herb Moore, Ottis Tussey, Donald Hill, Jarrod Biddle and Claire Muller. The art on display will also cover a wide range of mediums and styles. There will be Biddle’s pointillist-style ink portrayals of natural and rural life, Hill’s wood carvings and Muller’s stunning use of paper mosaics. Sketch art, found object sculpture, handmade jewelry, Appalachian and primitive craft-making will all have their place in the art show. And the vast majority of those pieces will be for sale, Kinney said. Furthermore, with the addition of the painted masks, people will also be able to glimpse the budding talent in Harrison County’s young people as well. The spring art show will be held on Thursday, May 22 from 4 - 6 p.m. However many of the artworks that the show will feature can be viewed almost any time in the art gallery itself. “During lunch or in the early afternoon, the art gallery is a good place to take a work Breyanna Maresco, a Southside elementary fourth grader, examines her life mask, which she is creating in Beth Thompson’s art class. Thompson’s fourth and fifth grade students in all Harrison Elementary schools will display their masks at the spring art show at the LVC jobs training site in the Harrison Square Shopping Center on Thursday, May 22. day break. It is a noteworthy aspect of Harrison County that so many talented local artists are finding inspiration from living and working here,” Kinney said.

Endorsing Linda Furnish for county clerk

To the editor: Linda Furnish is a native of Harrison County, a graduate of Harrison County High School and Fugazzi Business College. While in high school she worked part time in the drafting department at Ladish and, in the summer, worked for the soil conservation district. After graduating from Fugazzi, she was a secretary for R.H. Bouliguy Electrical Contractors in Lexington. She has reared eight wonderful children on a tobacco farm; six are citizens of Harrison County. There are 13 grandchildren. Linda began as a Harrison County deputy clerk on Oct. 1, 1986. She was appointed Harrison County Fiscal Court Clerk in May 1994. She was elected Harrison County Clerk in the fall of 2002. She teaches her own election classes, training precinct workers each time we have an election in our county. She continues in state-sponsored training, receiving 40 hours minimum per year. Linda continues to receive training of Kentucky Automated Vehicle Information System (KAVIS) which is set for future statewide release. As a former election officer at the Northside school precinct I have closely observed her and her deputies at work and suggest that we keep the experienced county clerk and her deputies working for the citizens of Harrison County. Vote May 20.

Benjamin Lee Kittle, 88

Benjamin Lee Kittle, 88, passed away peacefully on May 3, 2014.

He was born on Feb. 1, 1926 in Elkins, W.Va., to the late Benjamin and Hazel Kearney Kittle. He was a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology where he earned his Bachelors and Master's degrees in Civil Engineering, was a registered professional engineer in the fields of civil, hydraulic, and sanitary engineering and also a registered land surveyor. He was a veteran of World War II and retired from the US Army Reserve with the rank of Colonel, served in infantry, artillery, and engineer units beginning in 1943 when he enlisted in the Hawaii Defense Volunteers, a unit of the Central Pacific Base Command. He spent his career as a hydraulic engineer with the US Army Corps of Engineers. His strong work ethic then led him to a second career as Public Works Engineer for the Lexington-Fayette County Urban Government in Kentucky.

He always looked at life as a big adventure, which he chronicled in his memoirs. His life experiences took him from West Virginia, across the country through California and to Hilo, Hawaii, where he was living when Pearl Harbor was bombed. With assistance from the G.I. Bill, he studied at the Citadel, the University of Hawaii, the University of Colorado and finally the Georgia Institute of Technology. He was an accomplished photographer and sailor, and enjoyed many years of competitive sailing at the Atlanta Yacht Club, was an avid reader with a special appreciation for poetry and history, with special interests in World War II, the Civil War, and the poetry of Robert Service. He was a devoted husband and loving father, always providing support to his children in any of their endeavors, was especially passionate about higher education, providing encouragement and assistance to his daughters so they could pursue higher levels of learning, and had a quick, sharp wit, with a big heart underneath and he will be greatly missed by those he has left behind.

He was married for 50 years to Norma Jean Knox Kittle who preceded him in death in 2003.

He is survived by two sisters, Mary Chaney of Ocean City, Md. and Joyce Brown of Rehoboth Beach, Del.; three daughters, Jennifer Giersch of Atlanta, Ga., Cynthia King of Lake Worth, Fla., and Dr. Beverly Brockman of Chattanooga, Tenn.; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, May 8 at 2 p.m. at Cynthiana Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Patrick Laney officiating. Visitation will be from 12-2 p.m. preceding the service. Burial with full military honors will follow at Pythian Grove Cemetery in Berry, Ky.

Pallbearers for the service will be Dr. Chris Brockman, Rob Giersch, Jerry Brockman, and Kevin Chaney.

Memorial contributions may be made to Hospice of Chattanooga, 4411 Oakwood Dr., Chattanooga, TN 37416 or St. Joseph Indian School, P.O. Box 300, 1301 N. Main St., Chamberlain, SD 57325.

Administration points to Harrison ATC for welding academy/lab

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

The potential of a $200,000 grant to the Maysville Community and Technical College - Licking Valley Campus (LVC) has changed the focus of "the Welding Lab" project from a new building to a major upgrade of the welding facilities at the Harrison County Area Technical Center (ATC).

The proposal received support from the Cynthiana Harrison County Economic Development Authority (EDA) membership at their regular meeting Thursday morning.

EDA Board Chair Frazer LeBus said that Bruce Florence, executive director of LVC, proposed the change in plans at an earlier meeting between the EDA, LVC and the Harrison County ATC and School administrations.

According to Florence, the Derr Foundation, which provides grant funding for a variety of academic and infrastructural projects, contacted her office and encouraged LVC to submit a proposal for a grant they had available.

The grant, she said only provides funding for the purchase of equipment. It cannot be used for building projects.

However, if the Derr Foundation grant were combined with economic development funds for which the EDA is applying to finance the "welding lab," a state of the art career training facility could be installed inside the existing ATC building.

The EDA could direct the money that would have been used for construction and apply them to a major renovation project.

Florence commented that, as of press time, the Derr Foundation had not yet awarded the $200k grant.

"There are no guarantees. However, the foundation contacted us personally to submit a proposal and all the pieces are in place to meet the requirements of the grant application. These factors indicate we are on good footing to receive this award," Florence said.

At the EDA meeting, LeBus was equally optimistic about the change in plans.

The new plan would enable the ATC facility to be used for "career-readiness" training for high school students during the day and for LVC to offer a 2-year degree program in Cynthiana in the evening hours.

It is a degree program that is only offered at other campuses now, LeBus said.

The facility could also be used by area industries to train their workers on specialized equipment, LeBus said. LVC and Harrison County Schools are already in full support of this project, he added.

"In this scenario, everyone comes out a winner and Harrison County acquires a state of the art career training facility on our academic campus that will be used throughout the region," LeBus said.

LeBus also indicated that leadership in Harrison County's local industries were enthusiastic about the new angle the "welding lab" project has taken.

Furthermore, LeBus said that renovating and expanding existing ATC space could make the new "welding lab" a reality within several months rather than a year.

The proposal received approval from the majority of the EDA members present. Darrell "Acey" Terhune abstained from the vote.

In other business: •Leland Sparks closed on the purchase of lot #5 in the Harrison County Business Park for a new business. Based on LeBus' recommendation, $50,000 of the closing would go directly toward retiring the EDA's debt.

With regard to the EDA's efforts to retire its loan, treasurer Wayland Quisenberry commented that the organization was making excellent progress.

The $50,000, on top of their regular monthly payment, would reduce the EDA's debt to well under $200,000, he said.

•LeBus reported that he had received only one resume for the Executive Director's position. The ad for the open position will be placed with the state's web site and with the trade association. The deadline for applicants is May 12, he said.

Eric Tedder for Family Court Judge

Serving Harrison, Nicholas, Pendleton and Robertson Counties

Most of us know the prevalence of illicit drug use is a plague upon our society. We paint banners, march in parades, and posture weak legislation to create an awareness that almost all of us are already aware. Most of us know that drug crimes are generally considered victimless crimes and therefore lend themselves to lesser incarceration times due to prison overcrowding and the notion that these types of crimes are of a self destructive nature and essentially "victimless". But I ask you, is the person who is robbed by a junky seeking a quick dollar for the next fix NOT a victim? Is a spouse (wife or husband) beaten, stabbed, or shot in a fit of drug laced rage NOT a victim? Is a child left unattended, left hungry, left cold, left homeless, left injured, left sick, left scared, left alone, NOT a victim? As your next Family Court Judge I will take a hard stance on drug abuse. I will remove potential victims from harms way; I will support the rehabilitation of those who seek, work for, and achieve it; and I will vigorously pursue meaningful incarceration of those who don't! Other candidates acknowledge the problem with NO solution! I offer a hard line stance with a clear, direct, and transparent means to an end! I am Eric Tedder and I would appreciate your vote on May 20 and the opportunity to serve as your next Family Court Judge!

Morrises renew vows on 50th anniversary

The children of Cleveland “Jeep” and Barbara (Wilson) Morris announce the renewal of their parents wedding vows after 50 years of devotion, dedication and commitment. The renewal ceremony was held where they first met 50 years ago, on the basketball court at Cynthiana City Hall.

Presenting their mother Barbara for marriage were their three sons, Tom, Chris and Craig Morris. Bridesmaids were their two daughters, Tracy Morris-Brinkmeyer and Tina (Morris) Swinford.

This renewed commitment of love marks a significant event in their celebration of their 50 years together. The ceremony was conducted by Pastor Sammy Harris of Leesburg Christian Church.

Beta Sigma Phi Honors Night/Founders Day celebration held

The annual Honors Night/Founders Day celebration of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, April 28 at the Christian Church. Omega chapter was in charge of the dinner and awards presentation. Bonnie Teater, president, read the 85th Founders Day message from International, which was sent by Laura Ross, daughter of founder Walter Ross.

The new theme for the coming year is “Expand Your Family Tree.”

With the idea that sorority is the family tree, members are encouraged to expand and find new members. Commitment to growth was recommended for all chapters.

Teater recognized the out-going officers in Omega, and thanked them for their service. Betty Kay McCullough, vice president, expressed gratitude for Teater’s leadership in this past year.

Nancy Deitemeyer, secretary, presented perfect attendance certificates to the following Omega members: Barbara

Omega’s Girl of the Year was Barbara Snopek. Program of the Year was Charlene Dawson.

Xi Beta Beta’s President Lourena Judy recognized her out-going officers and thanked them for all they did. Mary Lebus, vice president, recognized Lourena and thanked her for devotion to the group.

Normal Wells, secretary, announced perfect attendance for the following Xi Beta Beta members: Cindy Cropper, Lourena Judy, Norma Wells, Susan Lemons, and Shonda Judy.

Xi Beta Beta’s Girl of the Year was Cindy Cropper. Program of the Year was Normal Wells.

Xi Delta Pi’s President Lisa Feeback announced her officers and thanked them for all the help she was given. Julie Asher, vice president, honored the retiring president.

Gaye Noble, secretary, recognized those who had perfect attendance for the year: Lisa Aubrey, Lisa Feeback, Trish Jenkins and Kathy Livingood.

Xi Delta Pi’s Girl of the Year was Kathy Livingood. Program of the Year was Kim Brooks.

Gamma Chi’s President Whitney Fowler presented her out-going officers and thanked them. Micki Grob expressed gratitude to Fowler for her leadership during the year.

Those with perfect attendance were: Rebecca Crowther, Micki Grob, Whitney Fowler, Kathy Linville and Jessica B. Smith.

Gamma Chi’s Girls of the Year were Ashley Peak and Micki Grob. Program of the Year was Lori Duckworth.

The evening was concluded with a program by Charlene Dawson and Ann Hall. Dawson did a reading, asking who lights up our lives? By making friendships, we learn to know others. Hall sang a chorus of the song “you light up my life.”

Harrison County Garden Club to sponsor Yard of the Month contest

The Harrison County Garden Club will sponsor the Yard of the Month contest again this year. If you encounter a particularly striking yard, or you are proud of your yard, call your nomination in to either Donna Yeager at 234-6621, Pat Slade at 234-8516, Karen Creger at 588-9356, or Joan Quisenberry at 859-988-1050.

Nominations should consist of address (Harrison County), name of resident and telephone number, if known. First place gets the “Yard of the Month” designation and the honor of the “Yard of the Month” sign in their yard for the month. A picture will appear in The Cynthiana Democrat along with a short article on their gardening expertise. There will also be a runner up category and two honorable mentions.

The gardens (can be front, side or back gardens) will be judged on the following criteria and will be on a scale from one to 20. Overall aesthetically pleasing will have a possible five points. Harmony of design including balance of color and texture will be worth a possible five points. Garden functionality such as a vegetable garden, herbs, attracting butterflies, birds or a cutting garden will be worth five points. Including points of interest or focal points such as rocks, statues, water gardens etc. will carry a weight of five points.

The first day of judging for June will be Saturday, May 17. Judging for July will Saturday, June 21, and finally judging for August will take place on Saturday, July 26.

We are looking forward to sharing a sampling of Cynthiana’s finest and show the pride we have in our town.

Upcoming Events

HOMEMAKER COMMUNITY DAY

The annual Homemaker Community Day will be Friday, May 9 from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Courthouse Square. There will be a variety of vendor stands, a bake sale, plant sales, and burger and steaks cooked by the Harrison County Beef Cattle Association. The alternate location will be Cynthiana Presbyterian Church in the case of inclement weather.

ODDVILLE ALUMNI DINNER

The annual Oddville

Alumni dinner will be held May 24 at The Vault, Main Street. Gathering will commence at 4:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 6. Anyone who attended Oddville School or has an affection for it is invited to attend. The catered buffet dinner is $18 per person served by Layne Tussey of “The Vault Catering.” Payments are required by May 19.

Send payments for dinner and contributions to the scholarship fund no later than May 19 to: Mary Jane Bell, 183 Culpepper Dr., Cynthiana, KY 41031 or call 859-234-3748.

Forty-two students graduate in MCTC/LVC nursing program

After the years of following orders, taking homework assignments, shadowing experienced practitioners, the Nursing Class of 2014 took the reins in their hands and planned their Pinning Ceremony.

This ceremony was filled with symbolic meaning that was both traditional and contemporary with room in the event for innovation as well.

One of the innovative and impressive parts of the afternoon was the question, "Do I Make You Proud?"

This selection powerfully sung by Maclyn Burden, set the scene for each of the 42 nurse candidates to pick up several roses and walk down the aisles to hand them to their family members with a hug.

The rest of the afternoon was equally as memorable as each candidate had the golden pin attached to their uniform.

The students selected two members of their class as Best Nurses. The day students chose Dawn Harvey and the night students, Tyler Pratt. He also had the highest GPA of all the students.

Special gifts were given to the instructors, Deborah Nolder, Allison Hendricks, Melanie Morris and Tara Applegate by the students

There was heavy emphasis during the ceremony on the importance of family support and the need for total dedication to their profession. It was stressed that these newly minted nurses will demonstrate in their careers the need for good health habits for their patients, and their families and will be a positive addition to the profession and to their community.

The new nurses are: Jessica Barnette, April Barrett, Tina Thompson-Brown, Candice Browning, Megan Bullock, Rita

Burke, Brandi Chapman, Amber Florence, Tonya Fryman, Amber Gosney, Traci Ham, Dawn Harvey, April Holbert, Christina Jolly, Denise Kemplin, Jodi Northcutt, Marie Otero, Hillary Poe, Christeen

Powell, Stacy Puckett, Christel Roberts, Jana Scalf, Holly Webb, Kayla Wolfe, Elizabeth Allen, Veronica Anderson, Maclyn Burden, Tonya Case, April Claypool, Shaundra Edwards, Timothy Graves, Elizabeth "Betty" Jenkins, Rene Jessie, Kali Kane, Jima Kane, Mandy Kelley, Heather McCall, Melissa Mutscheller, Tyler Pratt, Lori Sexton, Christina Tipton, and Staci Vice.

FBLA students attending state conference were: Erin Bradford, Olivia Gasser, Elizabeth Brooks, Hunter Henson, Nelah Marsh; back row, Alyssa Fryman, Courtney Brooks, Makayla Owens, Makayla Ravenscraft, Josie Valentine, Samantha Adkins, and Michaela Bowen.

FBLA wins awards at state conference

On April 14-16, the Harrison County ATC Chapter attended the Future Business Leaders of America State Leadership Conference at the Galt House in Louisville, Ky. The chapter had 12 officers, advisers and members attending.

All of those in attendance competed in team and individual competitive events. Other activities included interactive workshops, guest speakers, officer elections, and the awards ceremony. Winners were: first-Elizabeth Brooks - American Enterprise Project; third - Elizabeth Brooks, Hunter Henson and Nelah Marsh - Marketing; fourth-Erin Bradford - Public Speaking II; and fourth-Olivia Gasser - Local Chapter Newsletter.

First, second, and third place winners at the FBLA State Conference advance to national competition in Nashville, Tenn. June 29-July 2. Advisers are Louise Jackson and Sean Murphy.

Graves, Darnell perform in KMEA District 7 All-District Band

After a three-month delay, the KMEA District 7 All-District Bands finally gave their performance on Saturday, May 3.

This clinic and concert was originally scheduled to occur in late January. However, due to the harsh winter and widespread snow, the event was postponed.

In addition to the change in date, there was also a change in venue, and a change in conductors.

Dr. Cody Birdwell of the University of Kentucky stepped up to conduct the symphonic band due to a scheduling conflict. John Fannin of Murray State was still able to conduct the concert band.

The concert band performed works by W. Francis McBeth and John Fannin while the symphonic band performed works by Sousa, Frank Ticheli, and by UK graduate Ryan George. In addition, the symphonic band also performed a work by Sam Hazo titled "Everything Beautiful."

This piece was commissioned in memory of longtime Kentucky band director Chuck Campbell, who succumbed to cancer in 2011.

Two students represented Harrison County High School. Senior Luke Graves and Junior Stephen Yarnell participated in the symphonic band.

Sophomore trombonist Christopher Mashburn was also chosen to participate in the concert band through the audition process in January. However, due to a schedule conflict, was unable to participate on the rescheduled date.

"I am so very proud of these students," said John Merz, Harrison

County High School band director. "They performed incredibly well and represented Harrison County at the highest level."

A Celebration of Nurses Leading the Way

Every year from May 6 to May 12, our country celebrates National Nurses Week, a time to reflect on the integral role nurses play in our hospitals and communities.

May 12 is an important date in the history of nursing because it is the birth date of Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing. Nightingale was a nurse who is famed for her work during the Crimean War (1853-1856). During the war, her team of nurses pioneered modern medical techniques to improve unsanitary conditions at the British base hospital where they cared for soldiers and reduced the death count of soldiers by two-thirds. After the war, Nightingale laid the foundation for professional nursing as we know it today with the establishment of the first secular nursing school in the world at St Thomas' Hospital in London. Nightingale's writings and advocacy for her fellow nurses and their patients sparked international healthcare reform, ultimately, saving millions of lives.

The theme of National Nurses Week this year, "Nurses: Leading the Way," has never been more relevant to Nightingale's legacy. It recognizes that nurses today, much like Nightingale was 160 years ago, are critical leaders not only in providing quality care, but in advocating for their patients and communities, encouraging the adoption of new technology, pioneering new research, and making vital contributions in the boardrooms of the institutions in which they work.

The impact of nurses on our nation and in this community should not be underestimated. There are more than 3.1 million registered nurses in the United States – more than four times the number of practicing physicians – making nursing the largest healthcare profession in the country.

"The nurses at Bourbon Community Hospital are involved in nearly every facet of care delivered here and instrumental to our ability to continuously enhance our quality and service," said Joe Koch, CEO at Bourbon Community Hospital. "Our nurses are an important voice for our patients and an essential part of every service we provide. We are delighted to celebrate National Nurses Week and recognize the leadership and contributions of Bourbon Community Hospital's nursing staff."

Nurses are crucial partners in the healthcare system serving as medical providers, confidants, caretakers, and friends to many patients. They help families through the highest and lowest points in their lives. Nurses are often the first person to hold a newborn baby, and the last to tuck a dying loved one into bed.

Nurses are an irreplaceable part of our lives. Bourbon Community Hospital invites the community to join us in thanking our nurses for the exceptional work they do each day.

Harrison Memorial Hospital recognized as Distinguished Community Employer

In recognition of their outstanding support of employee education, Harrison Memorial Hospital was recently named a Distinguished Community Employer by the Florence Campus of National College.

HMH is one of the leading medical centers in the Northern Kentucky area. They have proven to be an invaluable partner to the Florence Campus, serving as a clinical site for surgical technology students.

"For more than 100 years, HMH has always offered assistance in training students for clinical positions and sees it as a pivotal point to student learning," said Sheila Currans, HMH chief executive officer. "HMH views clinical education as a way to teach, but also as a recruitment endeavor."

"Being a clinical site for students is a great opportunity for HMH to display its high quality of care provided by our surgical staff at our state-of-the-art facility," added Traci Taylor, HMH outpatient/surgery manager.

National College students are enhancing their skills to enter in the workforce and fill jobs that are in high demand in their local communities. Support from area employers like HMH is crucial in helping students achieve their career goals.

HMH Auxiliary holds spring volunteer luncheon, honors program April 22

The Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) Auxiliary held its annual Spring volunteer luncheon on Tuesday, April 22 with 30 members attending. The featured guest speaker was Dr. Shane Gainey, HMH Family Medicine Physician. He discussed the issues involved with fatigue and how to properly diagnose it.

The installation of officers took place at the luncheon. HMH Auxiliary officers for the upcoming year are Theresa Philpott-president, Bettye Marshall-vice president, Charlotte Paynter-secretary, Nancy May-corresponding secretary, Vicki Northcutt-treasurer, Christy Hall-Ways and Means chair, Bonnie Teater-public relations chair, Judy Letcher-Gift Shop buyer, Mary Jane Bell-Gift Shop coordinator and Vivian Smith-historian.

Special awards were presented by Philpott. Janice Doan was presented the Auxiliary Accuracy award for her work as recording secretary. Her accuracy on records and minutes has been exemplary. Linda Ring was presented the Auxiliary Appreciation award for her donations in the past year to the HMH Auxiliary Gift Shop and HMH Auxiliary Craft and Bake Sale.

The HMH Gift Shop is staffed by auxiliary members and volunteers. Judy Richie and Nikki Richie worked a combine total of 94 hours in the Gift Shop. They were recognized with the Most Worked Hours award. Blanche Asbury was recognized for her work over the years. She received the Auxiliary Dedication award. Bonnie Teater and Mollie Smith were awarded the President Appreciation award for assisting the auxiliary president throughout the year. In the past year, the HMH Auxiliary was awarded $1,500 from the 3M Foundation for 3M retirees who volunteered for the HMH Auxiliary. Mary Lou LaCore researched the project and assisted with the application process. She was awarded the Auxiliary Volunteer of the Year award for her service.

The HMH Gift Shop has several unique items for sale. For the month of May, the gift shop is featuring items for Mother's Day, along with purses, jewelry, UK gifts, scarves and more. Several children's clothing items are also available for purchase in the gift shop. Upcoming fundraising dates are the following:

- $5 Jewelry Sale: Thursday, May 8 in the HMH front lobby from 7 a.m. - 4 p.m.

- Purse, Luggage and More Sale: Tuesday, June 10 in the HMH front lobby from 8 a.m. - 6 p.m.

- Linen Sale: Thursday, Aug. 7 and Friday, Aug. 8 in the HMH front lobby from 7 a.m. - 4 p.m.

The HMH Auxiliary is comprised of 50 members who volunteer time to the facility. Volunteers are always welcomed. If you are interested in becoming an HMH Auxiliary member or volunteer, contact Theresa Philpott at 859-588-2804. If you are interested in volunteering in the HMH Gift Shop, contact Mary Jane Bell at 859-234-3748.

Sowder Cattle Company joins American Angus Association membership

Sowder Cattle Company, Cynthiana, Kentucky, is a new member of the American Angus Association®, reports Bryce Schumann, CEO of the national breed organization headquartered in Saint Joseph, Mo.

The American Angus Association, with over 24,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef breed association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on more than 17 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information, keeps production records on individual animals, and develops industry-leading selection tools for its members. These programs and services help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce quality genetics for the beef cattle industry and quality beef for consumers.

2013-14 Conservation District annual meeting

The Harrison County Soil and Water Conservation District held its annual meeting April 25 at the Harrison County Cooperative Extension Office. The district served as host to nearly 200 people.

A free dinner was served consisting of pulled pork and hot dogs cooked by County Judge Alex Barnett, coleslaw, baked beans, chips, and cookies from JJ's Sweets; all served by the Harrison County Conservation District board supervisors and NRCS officials.

A memorial presentation was made on behalf of the years of dedicated conservation service performed by Warren Wilson and Charlie Tribble.

These men each served as district board supervisors for 35 years. Their time and dedication was a true asset to the district.

In their memory, two American chestnut tree seedlings were planted at Flat Run Veterans' Park, we hope to see these trees grow strong and tall in their honor.

The district had several awards to present at the annual meeting.

Among the award recipients were the Harrison County Soil and Water Conservation District's Teacher of the Year, Mrs. Kim Bush, Eastside Elementary; 2013 Master Conservationist, Gene McKinley; five Charlie Tribble Conservation scholarships were awarded to Madison Dixon, Ally Barnett, John VanHook, Marly Jenkins and Alyssa Campbell.

Other awards given were 2014 library donations to each school library in Harrison County to purchase environmental/conservation related material, recognition of the 2013 4-H Land Judging Team, and the 2013 Jim Claypool Art and Conservation Writing Contest awards.

A short presentation was also given highlighting a few programs that are offered through the conservation district office. Those included current environmental grants: dead animal removal service sponsor and the white goods cleanup program offered during the county spring cleanup, district equipment available for rental; Tye Seeder with warm season grass box, and a tree planter, as well as an update on Twin Creek Dam was given.

The introduction of two new local cost share programs that will be available in July (Gateway Erosion Control Program, and a Rain Barrel/Compost Bin Program), and an upcoming Garden Cover Crop giveaway in the fall (details to follow).

The evening ended with door prizes from the Harrison County FFA Greenhouse, as well as a tree seedling giveaway.

Tomato 101: For beginners and advanced gardeners alike

There are many assumptions about the tomato that sometimes get passed on by the most well-meaning aficionado.

I take my tomatoes seriously and have developed a routine to hedge my bets for a healthy summer harvest.

When it comes to spring fever, the tomato is most abused. Most people still plant too early.

First, wait until our frost-free date (on average this is May 10th, give or take a week depending on where you are located).

After the frost-free date, the average air and soil temperature is usually warm enough for tomatoes to function efficiently.

Soil temperatures should be at least 55 degrees and the ambient night-time air temperature should be above 58 degrees otherwise the plant will be stunted and less vigorous.

The ideal conditions for growth, fruit set and ripening are daytime temperatures in the 80's, nighttime temperatures in the 60's ... the perfect summer, which we have maybe one week out of the whole summer.

Tomatoes love two things: heat and well-drained soil.

I can almost guarantee a successful season if you prepare the soil with lots of compost.

This provides a slow release of nutrients throughout the entire season; it also dramatically improves drainage while retaining even moisture.

Over fertilization can stress the plant so compost is far superior to weekly conventional stimulants. For example, too much nitrogen will encourage leafy growth at the expense of bloom. Lack of magnesium, which aids in chloro-

Jeneen Wiche
Columnist
www.SwallowRailFarm.com

phyll production and respiration of plants, can also delay fruit set. Compost delivers a slow, healthy dose of both.

When you plant pinch, off the lower sets of leaves and sink the plant as deep as you can.

Additional roots will develop at the leaf nodes thus making a stronger plant in the long run.

Once the plant is set, then mulch it well in order to control weeds, prevent soil from splashing on the plant (which is one of the primary ways that disease spreads to your plant), and to moderate soil moisture (important in controlling blossom end rot).

Use any organic mulching material; I typically use newspaper with grass clipping on top.

I have found that the newspaper-grass clipping combo works great as winter mulch for weed control, by next spring it has broken down enough that I simply turn it back into the soil.

I cannot emphasize the use of mulch enough.

It means that during times of drought you will have to irrigate very little and it moderates soil moisture and temperature, which keeps the plant producing.

Tomatoes rather like being a bit on the dry side and rapid fluctuations in soil moisture cause one of the most common tomato condition known as blossom end rot (as well as contributing to blossom drop, leaf curl, and splitting fruit).

When plants fluctuate between too wet and too dry, a calcium deficiency develops in the plant which then causes the blossom end of the fruit to rot.

You can avoid all of this with a good layer of mulch.

I typically sucker my plants (the practice of removing the new growth that emerges between stems and branches) early in the season to encourage good branching structure;

I will stop suckering once the tomatoes start to produce their second flush of fruit to ensure that there is plenty of foliage to shade the ripening fruit from the hot summer sun.

Healthy plants that receive a slow, natural source of nutrients; have adequate moisture and excellent drainage will resist pest problems on their own.

If you rotate your crop, keep the garden weed-free and mulch your plants you will further avoid many of the diseases that plague tomatoes.

Remove leaves as they appear infected and don't inadvertently spread it by handling healthy plants afterwards.

Preaching the gospel plain and simple

Some people you can't forget.

Alta McNalley is one of them. Although I can no longer picture her face, I can clearly hear her saying, "I'm just plain. I like old-fashioned singing; I like old-fashioned ways."

When I met her some years back she was the pastor of a little holiness church. I remember her saying how she loved yard sales and flea markets because you never know what kind of blessings God had for you — communion sets, baby stuff for a church nursery, fabric for curtains, even a husband.

The husband she found at an estate sale in Michigan. She and a man she had never met before were talking about an old washing machine when he invited her for a cup of coffee. She politely refused, saying she didn't have coffee with strange men.

And then she heard God tell her that the man was the answer to her prayers.

Before that, she had lived a hard life, starting with being one of 10 children of a poor Kentucky coal miner "one holler over from Loretta Lynn," and then being married to a man who treated her cruelly. They had three children, whom she took to church with her every Sunday.

"He'd beat me for going and beat me for coming home," she said. "Sometimes he wouldn't even let me come in the house."

Nancy Kennedy
Columnist

GRACE NOTES

Her only relief came when he traveled to Oklahoma from their home in Michigan, staying away for months at a time. He eventually died from lung cancer.

She said one day she was working on the back of a harvester out in the muck, harvesting potatoes, earning about 40 cents an hour. She heard God telling her, "Feed my lambs" and "Feed my sheep."

She went to see her pastor who told her God was calling her into the ministry. She told him, "Why would he call me? I'm unlearned - I only went to the eighth grade."

But he told her that God takes the "foolish things of this world to confound the wise."

So, she learned the Bible, and once her husband died and her kids were grown, she traveled as an evangelist, preaching the gospel, plain and simple.

She also started praying for a husband, a good one. "I never had one before," she said. "So, I asked God for somebody to stand beside me and help me."

Her first husband had told her she was too stupid to preach.

Then she met Mr. McNalley. After they married, they moved to Florida where Alta met friends who urged her to start a church. They rented a warehouse, bought old hymnals from a nearby church so they could sing the old-time songs and used seats that were originally from an old theater in town.

Whatever they needed, she prayed for it. She had seen God's hand of blessing and miracles on her life, including her daughter being healed of cancer. She simply, plainly, trusted God.

It's been a number of years since I visited with Alta, and I don't know whatever happened to her.

The church was called Deliverance Tabernacle, which is aptly named. The Lord had delivered Alta from her old life of sadness and abuse and she believed he could and would deliver others.

I remember she was loving and full of compassion, and she laughed. When Jesus touches people with sad lives and makes them un-sad it's akin to the blind being able to see or the lame running a 5K, laughing all the way for the sheer joy of it all.

She told me, "I don't know a whole lot, but I believe in holiness and walking clean. I know that when the Spirit of the Lord is on me, everything is clear."

In this day of high-tech churches where you can give your tithes and offerings online and follow the sermon notes on your smart phone — all which I love because that is how you reach a younger generation — there's something intriguing and appealing about plain and simple:

Jesus loves me, this I know, for the Bible tells me so. God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

Amazing grace, how sweet the sound, that saved a wretch like me. I once was lost, but now am found, was blind but now I see. The Lord is my shepherd; I have everything I need.

Plain, simple, truth.

Got the courage to do the right thing?

I get the opportunity to speak to a lot of youth groups and high schools about making good choices in life and how our choices, good and bad, can change the dynamics of our life's path.

I have a heart for youth, after all they are our future right?

In today's schools, much has changed from when I was in high school.

Cell phones are permitted, students have access to information immediately, which can be a good thing or a bad thing.

Sexual promiscuity is widely promoted by students that it's cool and everybody's doing it. Well, there is some accuracy to that statement. Recent studies show that three out of four high school students are sexually active.

Bullying is still around from my high school days, only it's much worse. Verbal and physical abuse is funny to so many students.

I can't imagine being a high school student today. It must take so much courage to stand up for what you believe in and do the right thing, even when you are the only one standing.

Martin Luther King Jr. says this about courage vs. cowardice: "Courage is an inner resolution to go forward despite obstacles; Cowardice is submissive surrender to circumstances. Courage breeds creativity, cowardice represses fear and is mastered by it. Cowardice asks the question, is it safe? Expediency asks the question, is it politics? Vanity asks the question, is it popular? But conscience asks the question, is it right? And there comes a time when we must take a position that is neither safe, nor politic, nor popular, but one must take it because it is right."

I have the honor and privilege of working with some very courageous women, who have been abused physically and or sexually and their lives and families have been torn apart by drugs/alcohol and addictions.

REFUGE FOR WOMEN

It takes a tremendous amount of courage to walk out of that darkness and into the light and to battle for their healing and new beginning.

I am encouraged by them and my faith continues to grow as I watch God do amazing things in their lives and families.

One of my favorite scriptures is Joshua 1:9 "Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous.

Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the Lord your God will be with you wherever you go."

I love challenging the youth to take a stand, to stand up for what they believe in, to be a positive role model no matter what others around them might think of them; to challenge them to be brave and courageous, no matter what; to "choose" to do the right thing.

Clifford, Markley state championship bound

Each finished third at regional meet

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Bryson Clifford and Jacob Markley, seniors at Harrison County High School, will get a chance to compete for the tennis state championship next Thursday at the Hilary Boone Tennis Complex at the University of Kentucky. The two each finished third in the region losing to the No. 1 seeds in the region on Monday afternoon.

Clifford battled Meredith Laskey of Highlands losing 0-6, 0-6 in sets that were much more contested than the score might indicate.

Markley also was matched up with the boys' No. 1 seed Ben Emery also from Highlands. Emery outlasted Markley, 1-6, 1-6, also in set play that was very competitive.

Fillies come from behind for 7-6 win in Carlisle

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County Fillies spotted the Nicholas County Lady Jackets a 6-1 advantage after two innings and then came back for a 7-6 win Monday in Carlisle.

The big district game was a rematch of the April 22 game in Cynthiana where the Lady Jackets took a one-run win.

Walks and hit batters were the downfall for the home squad as the two Nicholas County pitchers combined for seven walks and five hit batters.

The Fillies managed only six hits as it is hard to establish a hitting routine with so few strikes being thrown.

Sydney Motell was the only Fillies player with two hits as the six hits were scattered amongst five players.

The Lady Jackets garnered five hits off starter Bailey Conley and reliever Jami Davis.

Megan Bretz was the leading hitter for Nicholas County with two base hits.

Conley walked four and the two Harrison County hurlers did not hit a batter. Conley was the winning pitcher and George was the loser for the Lady Jackets.

The loss leaves Nicholas County at 9-11 for the season while the Fillies are 14-9-1.

Breds break four-game losing streak with 7-4 win over Fleming County

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Harrison County's four-game losing streak came to an end Tuesday night in Flemingsburg as the Breds defeated the Panthers (6-17) by a 7-4 score.

On Monday night in a pitcher's duel, Harrison County lost its fourth straight game by a 2-1 margin to Mason County.

Harrison County's John King and Mason County's Michael Sutton each pitched scoreless baseball for the first six innings.

The Mason County senior gave up six hits, walking two and striking out one. King more than matched his fellow senior allowing only four hits, walking one and striking out seven.

The Breds had a couple of base-running miscues in the early part of the game, one in the second and another in the fifth, that kept them off the scoreboard.

Harrison County finally broke the scoring ice in the top of the sixth when Robbie Stroub got a two-out single and stole second.

Coach Mac Whitaker then put in Drew Furnish to run for Stroub and Spencer Free to pinch hit for Zack Day. Free then bounced back to the pitcher but Sutton threw the ball away allowing Furnish to score.

Mason County got its runs in the bottom of the inning when Sutton hit a two-strike, two-out pitch over the center fielder for a base hit and two RBI's.

This was the margin of victory for the Royals who defeated Harrison County for the first time in nine years and 13 games.

Mason County's record is now 16-6 as they won their sixth straight game.

On Tuesday night, the Thorobreds erased an early deficit and then fought off a late Panther rally to beat Fleming County 7-4.

Whitaker, in an effort to shake up his team's woeful batting, changed the line up Tuesday which seemed to pay dividends.

Seniors King and Zach Royce homered and Stroub, Alex Kinsey and Luke Slucher had two hits apiece.

After a shaky first inning where he gave up two runs, freshman Nathan Fryman settled down and pitched five scoreless innings going into the seventh.

He tired in the seventh and was replaced by Austin Reffett. Reffett gave up a sacrifice fly and a base hit that each scored a run. He retired Fleming County second baseman Brice Gooding on a fly to right for the final out.

The win gave the Thorobreds an 18-11 record for the season and Coach

Mac Whitaker win number 1,005.

This leaves Whitaker only one win behind Green County's retired coach Larry Gumm on the all-time wins list.

Harrison County will next do battle with Scott High in Taylor Mill on Thursday.

On Saturday, the Judy Construction Round Robin will take place on the Hilltop beginning at 10:30 a.m. when the Breds take on region rival George Rogers Clark.

This game will be followed by GRC playing Cooper at 12:30 p.m. and then the Breds will be back in action at 2:30 p.m. against the Cooper team.

The time was moved up from the original schedule to allow the George Rogers Clark team to get home for the prom.

Harrison County wins girls, boys titles in All Comers Thursday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The track teams seemed to be coming together at the right time.

At least, that seemed to be the case on Thursday as the Fillies and Thorobreds were winners in the nine-team All Comers Meet at the athletic complex.

The Fillies scored 126 points to runner up Nicholas County's 89 as they won the meet.

After the Fillies, the meet was close as Paris followed Nicholas County with 80 points and George Rogers Clark came next with 79.

Pendleton County, Bourbon County, Sayre, Scott County and Bracken County trailed the field.

Junior Kassidy Cook won three events and finished second in another as she, Amelia Bolin, Caylin Mattox, Haley Carr and the 3200M relay team and the 1600M relay team took first place.

In a most unusual happening, Mattox and Carr had a tie in the 300M hurdles and also tied in the 100M hurdles for second behind Cook.

Cook also won the long jump and the triple jump while taking second in the high jump.

Bolin won the 400M dash as the Fillies were first and also finished second with Tarah

Martin.

The 3200M relay of Kayla Joy, Martin, Bolin and Mary Levi ran a season's best 11:33.79 in winning that race and the 1600M relay of Martin, Levi, Bolin and Hannah Thomas won in an impressive 4:50.

The 800M relay of Mia Lail, Carr, Mattox and Thomas had a season's best 1:54.83 to finish second while the same foursome also finished second in the 400M relay in another season's best :54.31.

Harrison County's second 400M relay team of Kearstin Tingle, Chandlyr Puckett, Levi and Sarah Doyle was third in a good :58.94 time.

Puckett was also fifth in the 200M dash while Tamara Lunsford was fifth in the 1600M run and Courtney Jackson took fifth in the shot put.

"This was our best showing of the season," noted Coach Danny Simpson. "We seem to be peaking at the right time."

The Thorobreds' 167-point total more than doubled second place Bourbon County as the Breds tuned up for the regional meet.

The field events were again the strong suit for the Breds as they won first place in all six field events.

The long jump was the event that the Thorobreds especially dominated as they took the first three places in this event.

Jovon Williams was first with a leap of 20 feet, 5 1/2 inches, Justin Hunter was second with a leap of 20 feet and Jordan Kinney took third with 18 feet, 11 inches.

Kenney won the high jump, Jeffrey Hunter the triple jump and Taylor Bolin the pole vault while Dominic Walker won both the shot put and the discus.

Harrison County also had its way in the 1600M run as Shane Palmer won in 5:17.36 followed by Cory Moore and Scott Moore in second and third.

The Moores also took third and fourth in the 3200M run this time Scott led the way.

Grant Carr won the 400M dash followed by Tyler Jackson in fourth.

Carr was third in the 800M run with Palmer fourth. Derrick Nunnelley won the 110M hurdles in :15.82 with Colton Burus fourth and Austin Harless fifth.

Burus took fourth in the 300M with Nunnelley sixth. Shaun Wallen grabbed third in the discus and Cole McNabb was sixth.

Christian Sinclair was fourth in the shot put with Wallen fifth. Two of the Thorobreds sprint-

Breds find tough sledding in Frankfort, lose 3 straight

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

On Thursday night, the Harrison County Thorobreds saw their five-game winning streak go by the wayside in the first inning. The Franklin County Flyers scored six times en route to a 6-2 victory.

Freshman hurler Nathan Fryman could not master his pitching locations and his teammates made three misplays in the first inning as the Flyers surprised the Breds with the scoring barrage.

At the same time, Flyer starter Quinton Brownlee retired the first 11 Thorobreds he faced as he hurled a complete game two hitter.

John King's two-run home run in the third was the only noise the Breds could muster as they fell to 17-8 while the Flyers improved to 9-18 in the first game of the Flyer Nation Invitational.

Harrison County returned to Franklin County on Friday for two more games in the Invitational.

The first opponent Friday was the Jaguars of East Jessamine.

Harrison County struck first in the game when they scored in the top of the third inning.

Freshman Logan Kellione led off with a double and advanced to third on a groundout. Brett Persinger walked and Gus Garrison laid down a perfect suicide squeeze allowing Kellione to score.

East Jessamine came back in the bottom of the third. Their lead-off man reached on an error and

The Lady Knights and Knights are favored again but they will be challenged by several other teams. Franklin County, Highlands and Harrison County are among the more touted girls' teams while Harrison County, Highlands and Covington Catholic figure to be in the running for the boys' title.

The 10 teams competing are Bourbon County, Covington Catholic, Franklin County, Harrison County, Highlands, Holmes, Lexington Catholic, Pendleton County, Scott and Western Hills.

was picked off first by catcher Luke Slucher.

Thorobreds hurler Jordan Riley proceeded to walk two straight, hit a batter and then walk in the tying run.

The bases were still loaded as the catcher for the Jaguars lifted a sacrifice fly to left to score the second run.

The Jags' designated hitter Burnight then picked up the only hit of the inning to score the third run.

Riley walked his fourth batter of the inning before securing a fly ball to center to end the inning.

Coach Mac Whitaker brought in sophomore Austin Reffett in the fourth and Reffett did an outstanding job holding East Jessamine scoreless for the next five innings.

It looked like curtains for the Breds, however, as through the next three-plus innings Jaguar hurler Jarred Jones retired 10 straight batters.

Then, with one out in the top of the seventh, Conner Free got the Breds going with a base hit.

Slucher followed with a single and both batters advanced on a wild pitch.

C.J. Claypool flied to second with both men in scoring position leaving it up to pinch hitter Alex Kinsey.

Kinsey, who had been out of play as of late with an injury, came through for the Breds as he bounced one up the middle off the pitcher's glove for a base hit.

In his haste to throw out Kinsey, East Jessamine's shortstop threw wildly allowing Slucher to score the third run and put the game into extra innings after Reffett again shut down the Jags.

Harrison County had the bases loaded with no outs to start the eighth. However, East Jessamine brought in sophomore Chase Wozniak and he struck out the first batter he faced for one out.

Slucher then lifted a fly ball to shallow right field and Royce, who was late tagging up, was thrown out at home to quell the rally.

In the bottom of the ninth, Reffett ran out of gas, walking the lead off batter. The runer advanced to second on a wild pitch before the next batter flied to center for the first out.

The Breds put the next batter on intentionally to set up the force play but Reffett could not find the strike zone and walked Wozniak to load the bases.

The next batter singled over the infield and the Jags came away a 4-3 winner.

Greenup County struck Harrison County pitchers Reese Asher and Zack Royce for nine hits and five walks as they improved to 10-13 with a 7-0 shutout of the Thorobreds.

The Breds helped Greenup County's cause by committing three errors.

While the Musketeers were scoring in four of six innings the Thorobreds were being held to only three hits for the game by the Greenup County duo of Karson Glancy and Matt Lawson.

MIKE'S MINUTE

Title IX 42 years later

When Title IX was first introduced as a part of the Education Amendment of 1972, the NCAA and many other institutions of education began gnashing of teeth and protesting as to how it would be the ruin of sports as we knew them at the time.

You see, there would be no way that the schools could afford to have the same schedules, pay for coaches, number of scholarships, same types of facilities and more for the female and male athlete.

How could Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh even dream of proposing such an amendment? While the NCAA protested, Sens. John Tower and Jakob Javits worked to reject the amendment through the senate channels. Despite their efforts, the bill remained intact and was signed into law on June 23, 1972, by President Richard Milhous Nixon.

Two of the key components of the athletic part of Title IX are equal treatment of female athletes when it comes to practice and competitive facilities as well as housing, dining facilities and services.

Pay of coaches is also to be equal, which in some universities it is not even close, but the NCAA allows this to go on even though the institution may be risking whatever federal funding it may receive.

I say the NCAA allows it, but I do not know for sure that they have anything to say about pay so maybe they don't actually allow it.

Anyway, schools get away with it by claiming that the salaries are equal, but "some of the pay comes from other sources" for the men's coach. That isn't the point of the article so enough of that.

My reason for this has to do with the facilities provided by the Harrison County Schools for softball and tennis.

First, I must clarify two things before I go on with this. No one of either the tennis or softball coaching staffs said anything about this to me.

I feel like the school does a fine job of trying to be fair, maybe too much so, in most cases and the facilities for the most part, are really good. The new facility behind the athletic complex is state of the art and I know that they do the most that they can with the money that is available.

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

But the restroom facilities for the softball and tennis events are just not acceptable. Port-a-pots are great for construction sites and Woodstock-type events, but for softball games and tennis matches, they are not good at all.

Especially when right above the baseball stadium is a nice brick building with a concession stand and separate bathrooms for men and women.

The baseball boosters may have built that themselves, which I doubt, but even if they did, the softball and tennis people need a similar facility.

It could be built on the side of the softball field opposite the middle school near left field and take care of the fans and athletes of tennis and softball.

One other suggestion concerning the sports played on the baseball, softball and tennis court and fields: I believe that traffic should be blocked from coming any further than the parking spots behind the baseball fields during the time the sporting events are in progress.

The one-way sign may as well be written on the street in invisible ink because it is ignored at least half of the time and probably more.

I have witnessed cars, trucks and even school buses going the wrong way, which puts fans in jeopardy at the fields.

I might even designate the parking spots for coaches and media so that no one drives further than the parking spots nearest the high school and middle school.

That way the people that would be driving past the tennis court would be early arrivals which would cut down on the chance of hitting someone.

In my opinion, a bullet is dodged every time there is an event on the Hilltop and no one is struck by a vehicle.

Fillies beat Paris 6-0 Thursday, win one of four in Owensboro

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The Harrison County Fillies defeated the Paris Lady Hounds Thursday night before embarking on a two-day trip to Owensboro to play in the Sports Warehouse Classic.

The Fillies won one of four games there playing top statewide competition.

On Thursday, the much-improved Lady Hounds gave the Fillies a battle before falling by the 6-0 score.

Harrison County pitcher Jami Davis held the Paris squad to two hits, a walk and only four base runners while striking out 10.

Harrison County struck for 12 hits as they scored in four of their six at bats. Catcher Courtney Newsome picked up four hits to lead the Fillies.

The Fillies junior varsity won 14-0 in their game. Paris' pitching walked nine and hit four batters in this game. Morgan Nelly led Harrison County with two hits.

South Spencer, Ind., was the first opponent for the Fillies on Friday night in Owensboro.

The Lady Rebels hail from the Rockport area of southern Indiana long known for its prowess in baseball and softball.

It did not take long for the South Spencer girls to do some damage. After lead-off batter Dawson doubled to start the game, she scored on a one-out RBI single by Englehardt.

Young picked up the fourth base hit of the first to score Englehardt and the Lady Rebels were in the lead 2-0 before the Fillies came to bat.

Harrison County rebounded in the bottom of the inning with a walk to pitcher Bailey Conley, a double by Sydney Motell and a single by Newsome to score three and take the lead 3 to 2 after one inning.

Unfortunately, the Fillies could only muster three more hits for the game while striking out seven times.

South Spencer scored two runs in the third to regain the lead and then padded that lead with single runs in the fourth and fifth innings to take the 6-3 win.

Saturday morning began with a game against the Lady Marshalls of Marshall County.

The Fillies' fielding let them down in this game as they committed five errors to go with Marshall County's 11 hits as they fell 6-2.

The Fillies scored single runs in the second and third as they bunched all five hits for the game in the two innings.

Marshall County loaded the bases in the first but didn't score. They did score two in the bottom of the second on a one-out walk, two errors, a hit batter and a fielder's choice.

After the Fillies tied the game in the top of the third, Marshall County took the lead for good with a run in the bottom of the inning.

The Lady Marshalls put it out of reach in the fourth with three runs on three hits, another error, another hit batter and a fielder's choice.

Marshall County completed the weekend with a 16-12 record playing in the tough far west part of the state.

The 1 p.m. game in the Sports Warehouse Classic saw the Fillies play the best team in the tournament to a close hard-fought ball game.

Central Hardin (24-2-1) defeated Harrison County 5-2 in a game that was 3-2 until a two-run home run by Kelsey McGuffin in the top of the seventh inning.

The Fillies had taken the lead 2-1 in the bottom of the fourth on back-to-back singles by Davis and Motell and Macy Martin's RBI double.

Central Hardin tied the game in the fifth and took a one-run lead in the sixth before McGuffin's blast.

The final game for the Fillies was against the Lady Devils of Owensboro Senior High.

The Fillies won this game 4-3 in a five innings as they scored in the fifth to secure the win.

Harrison County scored twice in the first when Fillies' pitcher Jami Davis was hit by a pitch and catcher Newsome reached on an error to put two on base with one out.

Martin doubled home one run and Shelby Ishmael singled home Newsome for a 2-0 lead.

The Fillies scored again in the second when Conley singled in Jima Hill, who had reached on an error.

Owensboro plated single runs in the second and third to keep it close and scored again in the fifth on a double and a Fillies miscue.

Davis doubled in the Harrison County fifth and scored on Motell's single for the 4-3 win.

Davis allowed six hits and the Fillies committed three errors while Harrison County picked up eight hits in the win.

The Fillies ended the weekend with a 13-9-1 record.

Patriots season, Martin's college career, end at MSC Tournament

The 2014 University of the Cumberland baseball season ended in the Mid-South Conference Tournament May 4 with losses to Georgetown College (11-8 in 8 innings) and Campbellsville University (15-11). The Patriots finished with a 31-23 mark overall.

Jared Martin, a 2010 graduate of Harrison Co. High School, was the only Patriot to start all 54 games. Martin, a senior third baseman, finished with the team's third highest batting average at .317 and led the team in triples. Martin was second in runs scored, hits, doubles, home runs, runs batted in, total bases, and slugging percentage. Martin also tied for the most times hit by a pitch.

ers finished sixth in their respective races as Andrew Norfleet was sixth in the 100M dash and Levi Hunt was sixth in the 200M dash.

The Thorobreds again were impressive in the relays winning three of four. Justin Hunter, Deshon Talbott, Williams and Kenney won the 400M relay in :45.77. The 800M relay of Malcolm Walker, Carr, Williams and Kenney won in a time of 1:34.55 while Harrison County's team 2 was fifth in 1:42.32.

The 3200M relay of Palmer, S. Moore, C. Moore and Austin Short won in 9:28.16 with the Thorobreds taking third, fourth and fifth in the 1600M relay.

Short, Carr, Brock Jenkins, and Keishon Gilkey were third, the Hunter brothers, Walker and Palmer were fourth and Austin Jackson, Hunt, Jordan Ramirez and Jackson came in fifth.

"We had a pretty good day," said Coach Robert Walker. "The region competition will be much tougher so we need to keep working hard in order to have a shot at the team title."

HARRISON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT TRAFFIC CASES

April 24 -- At 5:09 p.m., a non-injury crash occurred on US 62 W approximately 4.5 miles from the city limits. Michael Hanna of 134 Robynwood was traveling east when a car in the opposing lane suddenly lost its rear left wheel, which rolled into Hanna's lane. Hanna was unable to avoid being struck by the wheel.

April 25 -- At 12:36 a.m., a non-injury accident occurred on KY 36 W eight miles west of downtown. Steven Parsons of Richardson Lane struck a deer.

April 27 -- At 7:24 a.m., a non-injury accident occurred on Gray's Run Pike. George Kingkade of Gray's Run Road was traveling into the sun and the glare blinded him from seeing Phillip Kelly, also of Gray's Run Road, traveling in the oncoming lane. They sideswiped each other.

April 27 -- At 2:14 p.m. a non-injury accident occurred on US 27 N seven miles north of town. Malinda Roberts of Snake Lick Road was heading south on US 27 when she braked to avoid striking a dog that had run in the road. David Wills of Winchester was hauling a farm tractor with a trailer and could not avoid striking the rear of Robert's car.

April 28 -- At 10:22 p.m., an injury accident occurred on KY 1032 E about four miles outside the city limits. Robert Ducker of Nebo Road was still seated in his car in the front yard of a home where he had struck a tree. He had lacerations and possibly a broken ankle. Deputy Joe Daniel observed several empty beer cans in the truck bed, three empty cans in the floor board and a half empty bottle of Knob Creek Bourbon. Ducker said he had been drinking and agreed to giving blood when an ambulance arrived to transport him to Harrison Memorial Hospital.

April 29 -- At 7:30 a.m. a non-injury accident occurred on Ky 356 approximately eight miles from town. Christopher W. Turner of Sadieville struck a deer while traveling east on the road.

April 30 -- At 10:02 p.m. a non-injury accident occurred on Old Lair Road about three miles from town. Johnathan Webb of Cedar Brook Drive left the roadway on the left-hand side and overturned on the driver's side door.

May 1 -- At 8 p.m., a non-injury accident occurred on KY 1032 E 10 miles north of the city limits. Jessica Turney of Oddville-Sunrise Road swerved to avoid hitting a deer and wound up off the road hitting a tree.

May 2 -- At 4:48 p.m. a non-injury accident occurred on KY 36 W about a mile from the city. Kyle Lizer of Ky Highway 1743 was traveling west on Ky 36 W when he observed a vehicle stopped ahead of him. He braked to avoid hitting the car. Mark Call of Ky 36 W was behind Lizer and could not stop in time. He struck the rear end of the car.

CASE REPORTS

April 25 -- At 4 p.m., Brian Whalen of Hinton Webber Road reported that he discovered someone had opened several credit accounts in his name when he was conducting a credit check on himself. The accounts had been opened over a six-year span from 2004 - 2010 and none had been opened by Whalen nor had he given permission for them.

April 26 -- At 9:26 a.m., Ted Sullivan of New Lair Road reported that someone had stolen a utility trailer from his front yard.

April 27 -- At 11:55 a.m., Josh Curtis of Shadynook Pike reported that someone had stolen a few pieces of lawn equipment from the back of his pickup truck.

April 28 -- At 6:06 p.m., Donnie Baker of KY 1054 S. reported that some person(s) entered his garage and stole lawn equipment.

April 28 -- At 9:30 a.m., Richard Forsythe of US Highway 27 reported that someone had stolen a hauling trailer from his property. There were tire tracks found in the yard where perpetrators hooked the trailer and hauled it off.

May 1 -- At 12:59 p.m., Willard Wells of Northcutt Lane reported that vandals had damaged an electrical box on rental property he owned on New Lair Road.

May 2 -- At 7:25 p.m.,

Christopher Turner of Two Lick Road reported the theft of cash from his residence while he was incarcerated.

May 3 -- At 8:24 a.m., Marsha Pulliam of KY 1054 S. reported that her two mailboxes had been run over sometime during the night.

May 4 -- At 11:28 a.m., Thomas Blakeman of Indian Hill Drive in Union reported the theft of a heat pump compressor from property owned by the Howard Blakeman estate.

CITATIONS

April 28 -- At 8:03 p.m., an arrest warrant was executed against Michael Wilson, 38, of Mudlick Road for a violation of his parole.

April 28 -- At 7:57 p.m., an arrest warrant was executed against James Slade, 26, of Broadway on a charge of first degree criminal mischief.

April 19 -- At 7:30 a.m., a criminal summons was issued to Christopher Turner, 40, of Two Lick Road to answer a charge of Harassment (no physical contact) in district court May 5.

April 28 -- At 11:30 a.m., Kelli Kinney of N. Miller Street was served a criminal summons to answer to two charges of theft by deception, cold checks under $500 in Harrison County District Court.

April 29 -- At 6:01 p.m., George Franklin, 43, of 700 Palmer Lane was served a criminal summons to answer a charge of second degree animal cruelty on May 19 in Harrison District Court.

April 30 - At 10:55 a.m., a criminal summons was served to Kevin McCoy, 31, of W. Pleasant St. to answer a charge of second degree criminal mischief in Harrison County District Court on May 19.

April 30 -- At 10:55 a.m., a criminal summons was served to Kayla Sargent, 24, of W. Pleasant St. to answer a charge of second degree criminal mischief in Harrison County District Court on May 19.

May 2 -- At 1:19 a.m., an arrest warrant was executed against Christopher Turner, 40, of Two Lick Road on a charge of fourth degree assault resulting in a minor injury. Turner was arrested following an incident in which Lois Kelly, who is engaged to Turner, reported being slapped in the face. Turner was also alleged to have taken a baseball bat and breaking the front windshield and driver's side window of their car.

CYNTHIANA POLICE DEPARTMENT

Case reports

April 21 -- At 8:10 p.m., police were called to Walmart for a counterfeit bill. Lisa Wayman, Cynthiana, said she received the $20 bill when she purchased merchandise at Murphy Oil Station in Paris with a $100. She said she thought the bill was real.

April 21 -- At 8:35 p.m., police were called to 410 E. Pike St. regarding property damage to a gas meter. James Oaks is the renter of property owned by Roger Coppage. The meter was replaced before police arrived.

April 22 -- At 4:44 p.m., police were called regarding a custody issue.

April 22 -- At 8 p.m., police were called to do a welfare check on a small child that had allegedly been yelled at all day and was not allowed out of her chair. Police found the house clean and the child in good health. There was no evidence of abuse.

April 23 -- At 1:34 a.m., police were called to 213 Webster Ave. where Teri Eads reported that two storm doors had been taken from her mother's property.

April 23 -- At 12:17 p.m., Daniel F. New, 139 Taylor Drive, reported that he and a friend were photographed at his residence by an individual in a silver SUV.

April 23 -- At 3:03 p.m., Anna Ishmael reported damage at one of her rental properties at 125 Old Lair Road. She told police that a basement window was broken as well as a handle on the basement door. There were also two windows that had bullet holes.

April 23 -- At 10:43 p.m., Larry Dennis, 66 Raintree Drive, reported that a 2009 GMC Sierra pickup was taken from his home without his consent. The truck was located in Bourbon County with Joseph L. Hensley driving. Dennis had picked him up earlier in the day at the Bourbon County Detention Center. He was taken to Dennis' home and advised to not drive the truck because he had been drinking. Dennis said when he woke up at 10:40 p.m., the truck, Hensley's keys and wallet were missing. Hensley was arrested in Paris on charges stemming from the traffic stop by Kentucky State Police.

April 24 -- At 4:59 p.m., Charles M. Fowler, 123 Old Lair Road, reported to police at the pawn shop that his push mower had been stolen from his residence.

April 25 -- At 11:41 a.m., a report was made from Shady Lawn that resident Steve Edward Tompkins was missing. He was seen getting into a vehicle with his mother.

April 25 -- At 8:12 p.m., police were called to 107 Elm St. for a fight. Dylan Brown told police he was hit in the face by Johnny Claypool. Claypool told police that Brown arrived at his residence cursing and yelling. Claypool advised him to leave. Brown allegedly grabbed Claypool knocking him to the ground. From there the fight began.

April 26 -- At 4:41 a.m., Jerome Wells, 103 St. Clair St., reported that Travis Rhoades slashed the drivers' side tires on his vehicle and put sugar in his gas tank

April 26 -- At 6:01 a.m., Cherish Rutherford, 126 Louis Stout Way, and Travis Rhoades were allegedly involved in a fight on Louis Stout Way. Both were arrested and charged with fourth degree assault, domestic violence.

April 26 -- At 6:51 a.m., Michael Blan reported that while he was at his girlfriend's house at 132 Elm St. someone took his Galaxy Note cell phone.

April 26 -- At 4:10 p.m., Amit Vasudeva of Valero on Walnut Street reported that Frazier Clark had shoplifted smoke balls from the store. Clark was cited for theft by unlawful taking, shoplifting.

April 27 -- At 2:14 a.m., a report of domestic violence was made by Linda Gasser against her husband Donald, who was arrested and charged with fourth degree assault, domestic violence.

April 27 -- At 2:39 p.m., police were dispatched to Ken's NewMarket regarding a woman in the store concealing items. Police chased Rhandi Courtney up Bridge Street and placed her under arrest for shoplifting. During a search, she was also found to be in possession of three syringes, a metal cylinder with residue and a cotton Q-tip with a substance on the end. She was arrested and charged with theft by unlawful taking, shoplifting.

April 27 -- At 4:11 p.m., Seth Smith of Walmart security reported that Bree Black was inside the store and she had previously been trespassing from the premises. Walmart declined to prosecute at this time.

April 27 -- At 9:06 p.m., Darlene Perez, 317 Oddville Ave., reported that two residents at Parkside Manor had been involved in a fight.

April 28 -- At 1:09 a.m., police observed Forest L. Lakes parked in his vehicle at Harrison Square. When police approached Lakes he appeared nervous and confessed to a search.

A metal pipe with residue and a Brillo in the end was found in his pants pocket. There was other paraphernalia found as well. Lakes was arrested and charged with possession of drug paraphernalia, possession of controlled substance, prescription controlled substance not in proper container.

April 29 -- At 12:53 a.m., police were called to 205 Penn St. where Rachel Kenney was reportedly at Alfonso Kenney's residence causing trouble and refusing to leave. While trying to get information from Rachel, she continued to be disruptive by cursing and yelling at police. She was then arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

April 29 -- At 2:50 p.m., Thelma Stevens, 216 N. Miller St., reported that someone left a bike on her front porch and she wanted police to pick it up. At 2:51 p.m., Joseph Hinton called police to say his bike was missing from his front porch at 305 Penn St.

Arrests, citations, warnings

April 26 -- Travis A. Rhoades, 28, was arrested at 126 Water St. and

LEGAL NOTICE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF HARRISON

I, Linda B. Furnish, Clerk of the County, for the County and State aforesaid do certify that the Sample Primary Election Ballot for Harrison County printed above has been prepared, printed and posted in compliance with the Kentucky Revised Statutes and is to be submitted to the qualified voters within Harrison County at the Primary Election to be held on May 20, 2014.

ATTENTION: KENTUCKY HAS A CLOSED PRIMARY. YOU MAY ONLY VOTE FOR CANDIDATES WITHIN YOUR PARTY. ANY REGISTERED VOTER MAY VOTE FOR THE NONPARTISAN CIRCUIT JUDGE "FAMILY COURT" CANDIDATES. IF YOU CHANGED YOUR PARTY AFTER DECEMBER 31, 2013, YOU MAY NOT VOTE FOR A PARTISAN RACE. YOU MAY ONLY VOTE FOR THE NONPARTISAN CIRCUIT JUDGE.

KRS 117.227 provides that the election officers shall confirm the identity of each voter by personal acquaintance or by document, such as motor vehicle operator's license, social security card, credit card or identification card that bears both the picture and signature of the voter. Your cooperation in this matter is appreciated.

Please check the Secretary of State's website www.sos.ky.gov for the Voter Information Center to see if you are registered to vote. It will have your precinct and directions to your polling location. Check www.harrisoncountyfiscalcourt under county clerk for absentee voting requirements, voting locations, magisterial maps, instructional video on the voting machine etc. Be an informed voter. Find out if you are registered, where you vote, and know who will be on your ballot before election day. As always, we will have a demo voting machine available for practice in the clerk's office.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, I have here upon set my hand and seal of office of the Harrison County Clerk in the City of Cynthiana, County of Harrison this the 1st day of May, 2014.
